Cliff Walk Poem

Some marvelous sights along Newport's great shore
Are found from the Cliff Walk, treating you to tour.

Structures and ocean around

Make joyous emotions bound

And there is plenty for people to adore.

A great structure to meet is a stone staircase.

Get to the ocean by heading to its base.

The Forty Steps is the name

Oh, what a spot it became.

Swim, fish, admire, and learn to love this place.

A few mansions can be spotted on the trek:

Beechwood, Rosecliff, and Rough Point are some to check.

Even The Breakers perchance

Could attract you at first glance.

These could make great memories to recollect.

Sheep Point is located on the southeast side.

You can spot Sheep Point Cove by the path's seaside.

If you choose to stay awhile

Or continue with a smile,

Either way one should find themselves satisfied.

Numerous starting and exit points for you

Abridging the journey if you would like to.

For folks who think it's too long

End the trek; don't stick along.

Be glad you got a chance to enjoy the views.

3.5 miles of evident pathway

To walk down the trail and relish your stay.

From the beginning to the end

It's something to recommend

Invite your friends; give them scenes to survey.
